Body of a Young Child Found in Portage Lake.

Had Evidently Been Choked

Before It Had Been Thrown in the Water-Officers Investigating the Case.

Yesterday morning as James Shields and John Buttler, who had crossed the lake from Ripley in a row boat, drew up near Pope's boat house bey noticed loating half submerged in the water the body of an infant. After getting it out and placing it on the dock they notified the authorities, and Justice Brand went to the scene and impaneled a jury. The ury, composed of Theodore Lange, Jabez Cundy, Lewis Wallace, Andrew Ehler, Ed Emmons and John Jansen, after viewing the remains, adjourned to Justice Brand's office and took the testimony of Mr. Shields and then adjourned until next Monday at 2 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Shields said the body was floating about 15 feet from shore in about 2 feet of water, and was lying on its face and entangled in snags so that it was with difficulty gotten out.

Mr. Aitken is now one of the three leaders in the race for the republican nomination for governor, and Mr. Olds, whose reputation as a political worker is second to no one's in the State, is his chief benchman and adviser. The gentlemen visited the Mining School in the morning and Mr. Aitken expressed his astonishment at the extent of what he saw, remarking that the scope of the institution was not under stood at all throughout the Lower Pen insula. He said that the institution stri stands in need of considerable equipment which the next legislature should surely furnish. A garnishee case more than ordinarily hotly contested was decided in Justice Brand's court yesterday morning in favor of A. J. Scott against John Webber. The plaintiff had garnisheed M. It was originally deosited with the county treasurer as part 25th day of May, 1896, at 9 o'clock in of the fee for a liquor license after holding it awhile, not as a county official (for as that he had no right to it), but as an individual, and the balance not being forthcoming he was advised by the prosecuting attorney to turn it over to the clerk (Finn) of Hancock township.

The wedding of Albert Smith and Miss Martha Vollmer, of Calumet, was solempized with great eclat at the court house, Thursday afternoon, in the circuit court room. The parties presented themselves at the county clerk's office and Mr. Shields summoned Justice Brand to tie the knot. The wedding march was taken up from the clerk's office, all the county officials lending their dignity to the happy event. The best man was John Vollmer, a brother of the bride, and Miss Kate Schindler acted as bridesmaid. The auspicious event will remain a pleasant memory amid the cares of official life, which beset the people's servants for a long time to come.

The county game warden, Frank Pummerville, made complaint recently against Tom Hazel, of Adams township, for killing deer out of season, and he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff McNamara and was yesterday afternoon tried before Justice Brand. The evidence against him was weak and the trial resulted in an acquittal of the defendant.

METEORS THAT REACH THE EARTH. Phese Strange Visitors From Space Are Alike In Their Nature.

All of you have been out of doors on a cloudless evening and have seen a star ap-parently fall from its place in the sky and glide in a long line of light toward the

Perhaps you have wondered, as I used to do, how long it would be before the stars would all be gone from the sky, since one fell so often. I did not then know, what I have learned since, that "shooting what I have learned since, that "shooting stars" are not true stars at all, but only bodies which appear for an instant and then disappear forever. Let us call them meteors, and thus avoid confounding them with real stars, for the real stars are as enduring as anything in the universe.

In common speech, however, the term meteors is largely confined to those shooting stars which are very large and bright and are seen only now and then. Since they do not, however, differ from the shooting stars in any important respect, so far as we know, most of the learned scholars who make a study of such subjects consider them the same.

Now, if meteors never came any nearer the earth than do those which we so often see, we should know nothing more about them than what we could learn from their light, and that would be very little.

But it sometimes happens that one of them can be seen to come directly down to the earth. It makes a bright light as it falls, sometimes so intense as to outshine the sun when that is in the sky. times the meteor carries with it a cloud o smoke and falls with a hissing, splutter-ing noise, throwing out showers of sparks as it descends. Usually, too, loud reports are heard as it passes through the air, as if aerial armies were cannonading one an-other, and as the sound of the conflict dies away long rolls of echoing thunder shake

It is usually still hot if picked up very son after its fall, and its surface will be found to be covered by a thin crust, or varnish, made by the melting and flowing of its outside. This crust on the stones is usually black, while the interior is light gray in color; on the pieces of metal it is of a rusty brown color and the interior of the mass nickel white. The surface of these bodies can be seen, too, to be indent-ed by little pits or hollows which look for all the world as if the mass had once been soft as a piece of putty and some one had pressed it with his thumb in many places. Where Ships' Sails Sometimes Sing Some curious facts have been noted with regard to the sound conducting qualities of ships' sails. When rendered concave by a gentle breeze, the widespread sails of a ship are said to be excellent conductors of sound.

A ship was once sailing along the coast of Brazil, far out of sight of land. Suddenly several of the crow, while walking along the deck, noticed that when passing and repassing a particular spot they al-ways heard with great distinctness the ways heard with great distinctness the sound of bells chiming sweet music, as Dumfounded by this phenomenon they quickly communicated the discovery to their shipmates, but none of them was able to solve the enigma as to the origin of these seemingly mysterious sounds which came to them across the water.

Months afterward, upon returning to Brazil, the crew determined to satisfy their curiosity. Accordingly they mentioned the circumstance to their friends and were informed that at the time when the sounds were heard the bells in the cathedral of San Salvador, on the coast, had been ringing to celebrate a feast held in honor of one of the saints.

Their sound, wonderful to relate, favored by a gentle, steady breeze, had traveled a distance of upward of 100 miles over the smooth water and had been brought to a focus by the sails at the particular locality in which the sweet sounds were first heard.

This is but one of several instances of a similar kind, trustworthy authorities claiming that this same musio is often heard under somewhat the same circumstances, and especially in a moisture laden atmosphere.—London Tit-Bits.

They tell the story about Bill Nye's visit to Eli Perkins' country house, up in Madison county, N. Y. Ell has one of those farms left by his grandfather, on which are rocks, trout brooks, butternut trees and apple troes, where the ungrafted fruit is about the size of thorn apples. Nye said that Perkins' apples were 'so tough that, like a worm, they would turn when you stepped on them."

"After we had been Ell's guest about a week," said Nye, "some wicked boys one night stole all his early apples. This almost broke Ell's heart. The next day he went to see the father of the wicked boys.

"They should be punished, 'said Ell.' It was wicked to steal my choice fruit.'

"Too late now,' said the farmer, tears coming into his eyes.

"No; they should be soundly whipped now. It's never too late to whip those boys."

"But it is too late now, Mr. Perkins—too late,' pleaded the farmer tearfully. 'My poor boys were thoughtless. They ate the apples, and they are dend.' "—Boon (Ia.) News.

"So Near and Yet So Far." They tell the story about Bill Nye's visit

LESSON VIII, SECOND QUARTER, INTER-NATIONAL SERIES, MAY 24

fext of the Lesson, Luke zz, 9-19-Mer -y Verses, 13-16 Golden Text, Luke

"A certain man planted a vineyare and let it forth to husbandmen and went into a far country for a long time." Our last lesson seemed to have a special reference to the present age or the time be-tween Israel's rejection of their King and His return to take the kingdom. This parable seems rather to cover the whole history of Israel, including their treatment of the prophets and their rejection of the King. 10-12. This account of the treatment of 10-19. This account of the treatment of His servants will cover the whole period of the prophets. The fruit He desired was righteousness, and that Israel should make Him a name among the nations of the earth, that all nations might know Him for their good. But read the story in Isa. v, 7-95, and in Ezek, xill, and see what they gave Him instead of righteousness. As to their beating and shamefully treating the servants, just listen to a few testimonies: "Asa was wroth with the seer and put him in a prison house." "Zede-and put him in a prison house." "Zedemonies: "Asa was wroth with the seer and put him in a prison house." "Zedekiah came near and smote Micalah upon the cheek." "And they conspired against him (Zechariah) and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king in the court of the house of the Lord." "Then Pashur smote Jeremiah, the prophet, and put him in the stocks." "Then took they Jeremiah and cast him into the dungoon" (H Chron. xvi, 10; xviii, 23; xxiv, 21; Jer. xx, 2; xxxviii, 6). No wender that James by the Spirit writes, "Take my brethren, the prophets who "Take my brethren, the prophets who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction and of patience (Jas. v. 10). The Lord is now looking for the fruit of the Spirit in those looking for the fruit of the Spirit In those who have become branches in Him who is the True Vine, and through whom He desires to bear much fruit to the glory of God. Does He find it? If not, why? Let each answer for himself unto the Lord.

13. "Then said the lord of the vine-yard: What shall I do? I will send my beloved son. It may be they will reverence him when they see him." In Isa. v. 4, He asks, What could have been done more to My vineyard that I have not done in it? And here at a much farther stage He asks, What shall I do? Then determines to send His Beloved Son, not to punish, to send His Beloved Son, not to punish, as well He might, but to save and bless even such rebellious ones. God, who once spoke by the prophets, bath at last spoken by His Beloved Son, to whom He gave by His Beloved Son, to whom He gave-this title both at His baptism and at His transfiguration. Behold what manner of love, what long suffering, what forbear-ance, what yearning over the erring and rebellious ones. Hear Him, even through the prophets: "How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? How shall I deliver thee, Israel? (How "I S)

Ephraim? How shall I deliver thee, Israel? (Hos. xi, 8.)

14. "This is the beir; come let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours." Joseph's brethren said: "This dreamer cometh. Come now, therefore, and let us slay him and east him into some pit" (Gen. xxxvii, 19, 20). It seems impossible that human nature could be guilty of the baseness of Joseph's brethren, and of the brethren of our Lord, the Jews, who treated Him as He here describes. Think of ed Him as He here describes. Think of men enjoying property that cost them nothing, then of their refusing to thank the owner by rendering him some fruit, then of their actually conspiring to kill the owner and take the property into their own hands.

15. "So they east him out of the vine yard and killed him. What, therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?" Our Lord describes what He knew they would actually do, for He had often foretold it. What an illustration of the fact that the carnal mind is enmity against God. But, believer, let us apply it; let us see ourselves in this awful pie-ture. The Lord Jesus has bought us for His peculiar property that He may be glorified in us. Now, is He enthroned in the heart that He has bought for Himself. or is He as good as cast out? Lest we be as guilty or more guilty than the Jews, let us give Him cheerfully the whole being for His pleasure (Rom. xii. 1, 2).

husbandmen and shall give the vineyard to others." In Math. xxi, 43, the words are, "The kingdom of God shall be taken are, "The kingdom of God shall be taken from you and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof," Israel, having failed to receive her King, has been for the present set aside as a nation, while God is gathering out of all nations a people for His name who shall be joined to Christ and return with I'll—when He shall come in glory for the referation of Israel and of all things spoken by the prophets. The great question for the church and for every individual be lever is, Am I bearing fruit unto God?

unto God?

17. "What is this, then, that is written, the stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?" This is from Ps. exviii, 22, and points to the time when the nation shall say, "Blessed be He that cometh in the name of the Lord" (Math. xxiii, 39; Ps. exviii, 20). "It shall be said in that day: Lo, this is our God! We have waited for Him, and He will save us. This is the Lord. We have waited for Him, we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation" (Isa. xxv, 9). Our Lord was always cilling attention to what was written. He had implicit confidence in the Scriptures. He always appealed to them. He made people answer their own questions by Lits. "What is written? How readest them?"

18. "Whoseever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken, but on whomseever it shall fall it will grind him to powder." This takes us back to Isa viii, 14, 15, 17. "What is this, then, that is written,

This takes us back to Isa viii, 14, 15, where we read that He shall 1 to some a sanctuary, but to others a stone of stum-bling and a rock of offense. In I.a. xxviii, 16, we read that He is a sure and tried foundation stone as well as a previous cor-ner. The whole is summed up in I Pet.

ner. The whole is summed up in I Pet. ii, 4-8. The grinding to powder probably refers to Dan. ii, 35, and the time of His coming to judge the nations. He is now a place of refuge and a sure foundation to all who receive Him. He is a rock of offense to all who will not have Him, but when He comes in glory He will surely crush all His enemics.

19. "And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay I ands on Him." They had long before der mined to kill Him, but now their hour is drawing nigh, and yet they can at lay a inger on Him until God aspointed time. Then He will let them take Him, that their wicked hands may accomplish that which the counsel of God determined before to be done (Acts iv, 27, 28). Not even same himself can touch a child of God without himself can touch a child of God without God's permission, and there must be a needs be for all that comes to every child

As the months went by this improvement continued, until now he is as rugged and apparently as healthy as a young man of thirty, although his gray locks denote a more advanced age. A Tissee reporter, determined to find out what had made this great, and it might be said phenomenal change, called upon Mr. Young at the bank and put the question direct and received the following reply:

"In truth I am a changed man, and I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the spring of 1884 I was all run down and had commenced to think that my time had come. I had to be prescribed for by physicians, and although I received

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cure all diseases arising from a vitiated condition of the blood, such as pale and sallow complexion, general muscular weakness, loss of appetite, depression of spirits, lack of ambition, ansunia, chlorosis or green sickiness, paiplitation of the heart, shortness of breath on alight exertion, coldness of hands or feet, swelling of the feet and limbs, pain in the back, nervous headache, dirziness, it loss of memory, feebleness of will, ringing in the ears, early decay, all forms of femals weakness, leucorrhom, tardy or irregular periods, suppression of menses, hysteria, paralysis, locomotor ataxis, rheumatism, sciatics, all diseases resulting from humors in the blood, causing scrotinia, swelled glands, fever sores, rickets, hip-joint diseases, hunchback, acquired deformities, decayed bones, chronic crysipelas, catarrh, consumption of the bowels and lungs, and also for invigorating the blood and system when broken down by overwork worry, disease, excesses and indiscretions of living, recovery from acute diseases, such as fevers, etc., loss of vital powers, spermatorrhess, early decay, premature old age. These pills are not appropriate medicine. They contain nothing that could injure the most delicate system. They act directly on the blood, supplying to the blood its life-giving qualities by assisting it to absorb exygen, that great supporter of all organic life. In this way the blood, being supplied with its lacking constituents, becomes rich and red, nourishes the various organs, stimulating them to activity in the performance of their functions, and thus eliminates diseases from the system.

Exist red checks, an elastic step, a clear skin and a bright except.
